

Personal data: your rights

All schools need to handle confidential information about individual people, and at the Ribblesdale Federation of Schools we work hard to do so in accordance with both our vision and values and within the law. This page gives information about how we process your personal data, and about your rights under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) as it applies in the UK, tailored by the Data Protection Act 2018.

To find out more about all your legal rights under GDPR please visit the web site of the Information Commissioner's Office \(ICO\). The ICO is the UK's independent authority set up to uphold information rights in the public interest, promoting openness by public bodies and data privacy for individuals.

To make sure that we work as transparently as possible, we provide information about processing personal data in a privacy notice which sets out important information about what we do with personal data. You can download below a copy of our individual schools' Parent and Pupil Privacy Notices.
